FOR

To forward the work of our Great Lord and Savior is the hope, desire and ambition of the Southwestern Seniors of 1949.

We trust that as you turn these pages you will see not only familiar scenes and happy faces of days gone by, but also interwoven throughout and on every page may you see the beauty of the Savior Himself. It is our prayer that in this book you may see His holiness, love, and atoning power to the extent that from a recourse through its pages you can arise with new strength and courage to proclaim to the world that 'Jesus Saves'. Our hope for you, then, is that you will go forth in the name of the Lowly Nazarene. May the world hear; may darkness be dispelled; may men live and not die.

Forward then ye who work with God.
Out on the path that He has trod;
You'll find the souls who struggle there
Are weighted down with life's great care.

Oh tell them then ere day is done,
And comes the eve of sinking sun,
Of Him who came to seek and save,
Of Him who conquered death and grave.

They long to know, they look above,
Their searching gaze is one for love,
They're sinking fast, and yet can't find;
Their eyes are dim, their leaders blind.

O soul look out and see their plight,
Behold the darkness of the night;
Arise, and tell both far and near
That Jesus came to free from fear.

Forward then we cry to you
Who work with God; ye must be true
To Him who's called from night to day.
Go forth with Him; He'll lead the way.

CLOSING DAYS

It has indeed been a great privilege and honor of the Southwestern Seniors of the class of nineteen hundred and forty-nine to have been associated with Brother and Sister McCafferty. Sister McCafferty will always be remembered by her warm smile of greeting that has beautified the day for so many, and the rich spiritual life, sense of humor, and greatness of our Brother McCafferty will live on with us as we live. So it is truly an honor greater than we deserve to dedicate the nineteen hundred and forty-nine SOUTHWESTERNER to Brother and Sister McCafferty.

ADMINISTRATION

REV. M. E. COLLINS
President

Dear Seniors:

You have been a blessing to us. As you "labor with God" may you be led by His Spirit, your talents increased, your efforts crowned with success and your reward great at His coming. Keep your lights trimmed and burning. We will 'meet you in the morning'.

M. E. Collins

REV. E. W. MOORE
Dean

Dear Students:

We are now closing the best year in the entire history of Southwestern. We wish to remind you that your having been here has been a contributory factor to this successful year.

Now that you are leaving school we want your friends and the people to whom you minister to see the following characteristics in your life; spirituality, scholarship, and humility. Jesus said, "The meek shall inherit the earth."

Boost your school and tell everyone you meet what God is doing here for both students and faculty.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

This year has been one of the greatest in the history of Southwestern and we know that a great part of the credit for its success is due to the untiring labors of the Board of Directors. Under their spiritual directorship the problems of the year have been settled and greater plans for the future put into operation. We thank God for the unselfish way in which they have served us and Southwestern.

..HEADS OF

Dean of Seminary
ARVIN W. GLANDON, Th. B.

The intellectual ability and zeal of service of Dean Glandon are greatly to be admired, but most of all perhaps we will remember him by the happy smiles that flit to and fro from his countenance throughout the day. In our memories he will live not only as a Dean and a teacher but also as a true friend with an understanding heart.

Dean of Junior College
E. W. PATTERSON, B. A., M. A.

We are deeply grateful for the life of wisdom and understanding of Dean Patterson. His intellectual achievements plus Christian character are to be highly appreciated. We the Senior Classes of 1949 have been blessed in having him as our Dean and instructor.

DEPARTMENTS..

Dean of Bible School
W. B. McCafferty, D. D.

We will remember Dean McCafferty not only for his great intellect and teaching ability, but also for his admirable Christian character and deep love for the truth. Our lives have been vastly enriched by observing the spirit of humility in which he renders his great service for God and man.

Principal of High School
L. A. GARNER, B. A., M. A.

Principal Garner has been a great blessing to our school. We will never forget the frank, open-hearted way in which he is always willing to serve. We thank God for a Christian life such as his.

We have plenty of men
Like scrubs and stumps,
And plenty of knotty trees;
But God give us more
Who are straight and strong,
God give us men like these.

Registrar
D. L. CANTRELL, B. S.

Who could fail to appreciate the broad smiles and happy personality of our Registrar? Though in the midst of a day's hectic labor he seems always to have a smile and kind word for those who need his assistance. His life will always remain in our memory as an example of a true Christian.

Secretary of Records
MRS. W. B. McCAFFERTY

During our past years at Southwestern we have all appreciated the friendly service and helping hand that has been given by our own Mrs. McCafferty. Her life has been a blessing to all of us, and we will always remember her as a dear friend who has a heart of love and understanding.

Director of Student Body
R. D. ZOOK, D. D.

Reverend R. D. Zook will always be remembered as one of the busiest men at S. B. I. In our stay at Southwestern we have learned to love him not only as a teacher, but also as Director of the Student Body, even greater than this we have appreciated him as leader of Southwestern's great extension work program. His service for God and Southwestern in these capacities is greatly valued.

FACULTY

M. E. COLLINS, B. A., M. A.
Kind and understanding as a counsellor, intellectual and spiritual as a teacher, with patience and consistency in Christ as characteristics portray well our President. Our contact with him has helped to better equip us to work for the Master.

E. W. MOORE, B. S., M. A.
Although many duties and responsibilities rest heavily upon the shoulders of Dean Moore, he has proven to be a great blessing and inspiration. Possessed of a broad vision and a tireless zeal he is an invaluable asset to the school.

CLAUDE KENDRICK, B. A., M. A.
Besides his heavy duties as Secretary and Treasurer of Southwestern, Brother Kendrick has made "History of Pentecost" a subject of great value. His efficiency in the realms of both secular and ecclesiastical history is highly attested by prominent men of educational rank.

JOSEPHINE K. WILLIAMS
B. A., M. D.
Biology, which to many is dull and uninteresting, becomes vivid and faith-building under the appointed teaching of Sister Williams. To her God's creation certainly yields its spiritual increase.

ELIZABETH GALLEY, M. A.
With her undying missionary vision and tender disposition, Sister Galley has made a fast hold on the hearts of Southwesterners. Her schedule is filled to capacity with courses in Church History and Missions but she is never too busy to give a word of counsel or an uplifting smile.

A. C. LANE, B. A.
Brother Lane's life and Bible teaching have certainly been a great inspiration to the Southwestern Seniors of 1949. We appreciate one who will take his stand for the truth and against falsehood as he does.

E. E. WAUGH
B. A., B. Th., M. A., B. D.
As a result of much prayer and preparation, Brother Waugh has made his classes of philosophical and Biblical subjects above the average in inspiration and education. An expression of his heart is seen in the smile that he so easily wears.

FERN MANGUM, B. S., M. A.
As well as an efficient Bible instructor in both the College and High School departments, Sister Mangum is a real friend to those who know her. She is easily recognized on the campus of Southwestern by her pleasant smile.

FACULTY

JUANITA ROGERS, B. S.
Of great benefit to the teaching staff of Southwestern is Mrs. Rogers. Efficient, cheerful and always ready to lend a helping hand in her college English courses, she is much appreciated by all.

NONNA DEE CHILDRESS
B. A., M. A.
Art work has flourished in Southwestern under the capable direction of Sister Childress. Plus her abilities as teacher, her missionary vision and zeal is unsurpassed in our ranks.

FERN DUFFEY, B. A., M. A.
Who of S. B. I. could forget the cheerful greeting and happy smile of Sister Duffey? Her class devotions will remain as precious memories in our minds as we go from Southwestern. May God bless our favorite History teacher.

C. C. ROBINSON
The feeling in the hearts of Southwesterners for Brother Robinson is best expressed in the words that have been frequently heard in student conversation, "Brother Robinson is certainly a man of God." He is certainly qualified as an instructor in courses of practical theology.

R. L. McCUTCHAN, B. S.
Appreciated in both class and social activities, Brother McCutchan, is a capable instructor in the field of Religious Education. A word of appreciation also for his health notes which have proven beneficial to many.

CLARA BELLE WAUGH, B. S.
Possessed with a spiritual vision and brilliancy of mind which have made her classes of English and Social Sciences much more than just educational. Sister Waugh is one of Southwestern's most promising teachers. She is much loved and appreciated by all.

IRENE APPLEWHITE, B. S.
Her sincerity in serving the Lord has been an inspiration to many lives. Her life will be remembered as a true example of a servant of the Lord. Mathematics is made easier under her capable instruction.

MRS. CATHERINE ANDERSON
All who know Sister Anderson have learned to love her. We appreciate her not only as our English teacher but also as one who understands our problems.

FACULTY

HERBERT SIMS

Capable, industrious, and more than a friend to all he has progressed greatly the Language Department of Southwestern. Brother Sims and Spanish are almost synonymous words in the minds of the majority of the students.

DICK STRAHAN, B. A.

New to the teaching staff this year is Dick Strahan, former student of Southwestern. His capabilities in the teaching fields of Science and Mathematics are paralleled by his congenial disposition.

EVELYN VADEN, B. S., M. A.

Greatly loved and appreciated, is Miss Evelyn Vaden, Assistant High School Principal and Teacher of Commercial and Bible Courses. She is best known by her sincere Christian attitude and love for God's work.

VIOLA BRANNON, B. S.

Sister Brannon's life has meant much to all who have known her. We appreciate her not only as commercial teacher and friend but also as a Christian in the service of the Lord.

ALICE SWANSON

Because of her understanding nature and her willingness to help, Sister Swanson is admired by those with whom she comes in contact. By the High School students she is known as counsellor, commercial teacher and friend.

RUTH ANDERSON, B. S.

The depth of one's Christian experience may be seen by their daily life. We have seen in Miss Anderson's life the true character that tells of a real experience with the Lord. We are grateful for such a person to head our Commercial Department.

CONNIE BAILEY

Who could forget the joyful smiles of happiness that seem to be a part of Connie? Everywhere she goes her smile goes with her. Many hearts have been gladdened and burdens made lighter by nothing more than her smile as she goes about her task as Recreation Director.

MARY NELL DANIEL, B. S.

Her life has truly been a blessing to the students of Southwestern. We have learned to appreciate her, not only as our Home Economics teacher but as a close friend who is always ready and willing to help.

FACULTY

REVEREND C. N. RICE, B. S.
Director of our Music Department is Brother C. N. Rice. The department has advanced exceedingly and is still advancing under his capable leadership. One of the outstanding achievements of 1949, as a result of his labors, was the masterful presentations of Handel's 'Messiah'.

MRS. C. N. RICE, B. A.
Sister Rice, wife of Brother C. N. Rice, has made effective use of her ability in both instrumental and vocal fields of music. Our music department has been blessed exceedingly by her faithful and efficient administration.

MRS. A. C. LANE
It would be impossible to evaluate Sister Lane's service to us. Her musical talent has meant much to our school, but even greater than her musical talent we appreciate her life of consecration to God.

VIRGIL NICHOLSON
Brother Nicholson has certainly been a great blessing as an instructor in the fretted section of our Music Department. The results of his labors as seen in the efficiency of his students is sure proof of his capableness.

PAUL ZOOK
Musician, teacher, and pastor describe well our Brother Paul Zook. His efficiency in the realm of fretted instruments is not easily excelled. We greatly appreciate his talent but more so his deep spiritual consecration.

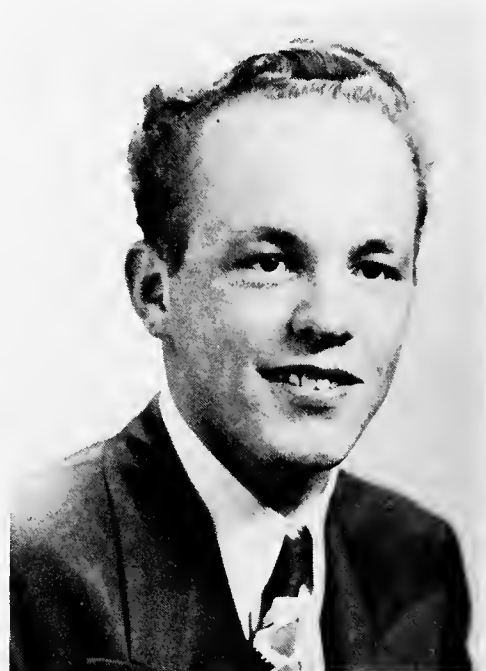

NORMA SIMS
Our hearts have been lifted many times into heavenly atmospheres by the beautiful and gracious music of the violin as played by Sister Sims. As a teacher her ability to play is paralleled by her ability to impart this wonderful talent to others.

ELINORA BROOKS
Her service in the music department has been a great blessing to S. B. I. We have appreciated not only her musical talent but her joyful personality and consecration to the Lord.

DELMORE HILL
The Christian character of Delmore has been greatly appreciated by all who know him. He has been a blessing to the school not only through his musical talent but also through his consecrated life.

FACULTY

SELMA HARRISON

Talent is great, but talent consecrated to the Lord's service is much greater. We thank God for the consecrated talent of Sister Harrison who has been a blessing as a favorite piano teacher.

FRANKIE FRAZIER

We thank the Lord for her abilities as a piano teacher which have blessed our school. May the Lord continue to make her a blessing in the future as He has in the past.

EDNA FREEMAN

The talents of Sister Freeman in the Piano Department have been greatly appreciated by the students of S. B. I. She has been a true friend to us and we pray that God's richest blessings will be hers in the future.

PEARL ELLIS, B. S.

We thank the Lord for a Christian life such as that of our Librarian. She has rendered S. B. I. a great service for which we are thankful to God.

MAE DAVIS

Her smiling face has brightened the day for many students. We thank the Lord for her consecration to Him and service for Him as she labors in the library.

MINNIE LOWERY

Minnie Lowery has proven herself a capable assistant to Sister Ellis in Southwestern's Library. Her pleasant attitude is much appreciated by students and faculty alike.

HAZEL HOLLIS

As Secretary to President Collins she has proven to be an efficient, competent, and consecrated person. Her life has been a great blessing to the Southwestern students of 1949.

EVELYN McGLOTHLIN

Evelyn McGlothlin as Secretary to Dean Moore has added greatly to the already pleasant state of this office. To be friendly and helpful is obviously her greatest desire.

STAFF

MRS. TOM SIKES

Her first year at Southwestern Sister Sikes has already become a 'permanent fixture' in the hearts of those who know her. As Dean of Women and friend to all she is much loved.

REVEREND L. E. DAVIS

Words are inadequate to explain what Brother Davis has meant to the students of S. B. I. His loving service for the Lord will always be a source of inspiration for us in our future lives and he will be remembered as a capable Dean of Men.

MRS. ALICE WILLINGHAM

She has filled her position well as Assistant Dean of Women. Generosity and thoughtfulness are outstanding in the life of our 'Sister Willie'.

MRS. S. A. BEAM

We all appreciate the love and Christlike spirit that is shown through the life of Sister Beam as she fulfills her duties as Assistant Dean of Women. Her love for the Lord has been a great inspiration to all of us.

GEORGE DOWNS

Brother George, Assistant Dean of Men, has certainly meant much to the boys of S. B. I. We will always remember him by his friendly spirit and understanding heart.

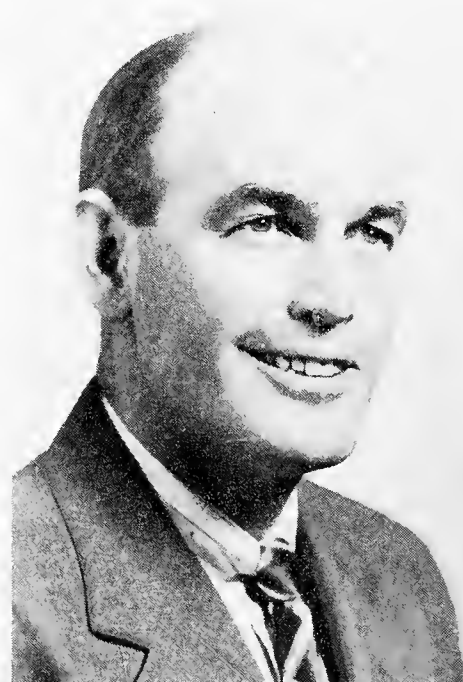

DWIGHT PALSER

A favorite of the student body is Dwight Palser, Assistant Dean of Men and Physical Education Instructor for the boys. His good nature and congenial attitude is much appreciated by all who know him.

GRACE DAVIS

Sister Davis, a former member of Southwestern's Staff has returned after an absence of several months to fill the new position of Promotional Secretary in Brother Collin's office. We are glad to have her back.

FRANK THORPE

As Supervisor of Maintenance, Brother Thorpe, has proven to be a key man on our staff. The improvements and upkeep of school facilities are evidence of his faithful service.

STAFF

ROBERT E. ROGERS

His efficient and competent manner in handling his many duties as Cashier has made him a mainstay. Cheerful and friendly with the students makes a visit with him pleasant.

ANN SKETOE

As Bookkeeper she is a faithful laborer in our Business Office. Capable and dependable she has invaluable herself to Southwestern's Staff.

ELOISE BREASHEARS

We will always remember the Business Office Clerk by her joyful personality and happy smiles. Her life is a true example of a Christian.

LOUISE REDDICK

Louise, Veterans' Co-Ordinator, is much loved by students and faculty. Her devotion to God is easily recognized and predominantly so in the fervor of daily business activity as occurs in the Business Office of Southwestern.

HAROLD DAVIS

Our Manager of the Book Store has yielded excellent service to the school. We thank the Lord for a Christian life of service such as his.

ELAINE DAVIS

Tireless in her duties and friendly in her services are characteristics that speak well of her position in the Book Store. She has proven to be a consecrated servant for the Master.

MADELINE CANTWELL

Who could ever forget the one who delivers the good news? We'll always remember Madeline as the happy Post Mistress of S. B. I.

EULA MAE MANGUM

Because of her happy smile Mae has made one's visit to the Book Store pleasant. She yet retains her beautiful voice for which she will long be remembered.

STAFF

JOSEPHINE LIVERNASH

Under the able supervision of Sister Livernash the dining room is smoothly operated and each day finds her faithful at her post of duty. Her light brightly shines amid the busy hours of the day.

FRANKIE JOHNSON

We greatly appreciate the Christian life of Sister Johnson. We have all learned to love her dearly in her short stay at Southwestern. Her character is that of a true Christian.

PHIL MANGUM

A returned graduate, Phil Mangum, is the manager of the Print Shop. The interest and zeal with which he does his work is undoubtedly the underlying reason for its efficiency and success.

FRANCES MASSEY

As manager of the school laundry, Frances Massey holds the utmost respect of the entire student body. Her quiet manner and friendly smile makes her company very pleasant.

MARGERY MASSEY

She is a capable assistant in the laundry to her sister, Frances. Her nature is such that working with her is a pleasure.

BILL CRAIG

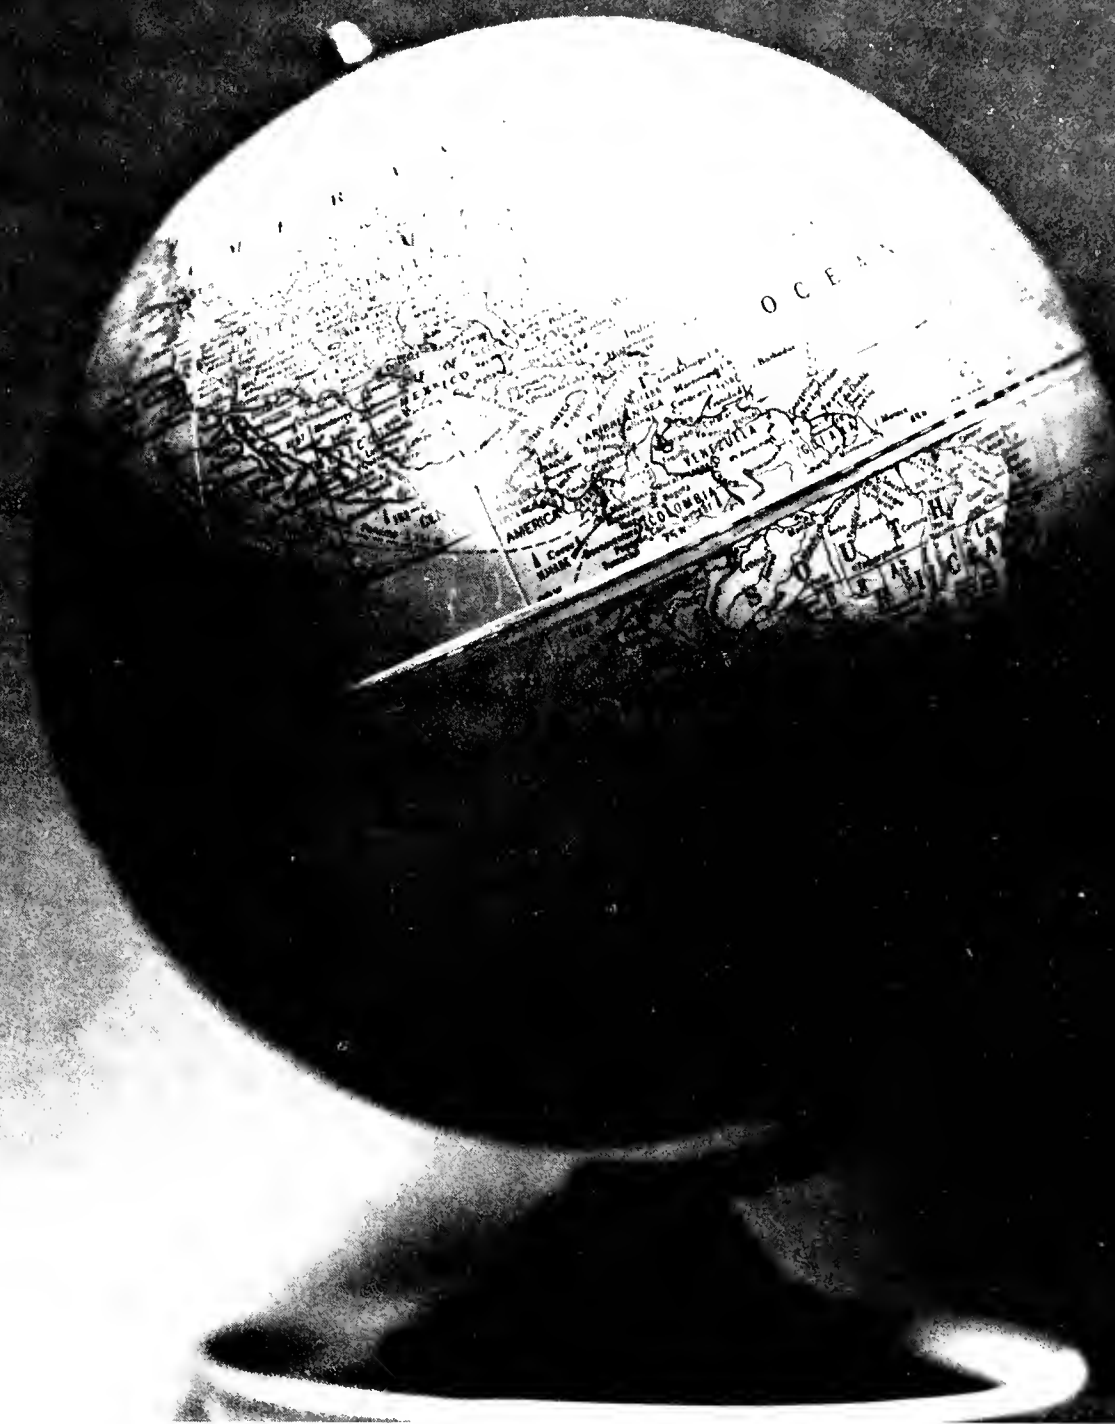

His beaming personality and zeal of service have been an inspiration to all who have known him. May God richly bless him and greatly use him through the future years of his life.

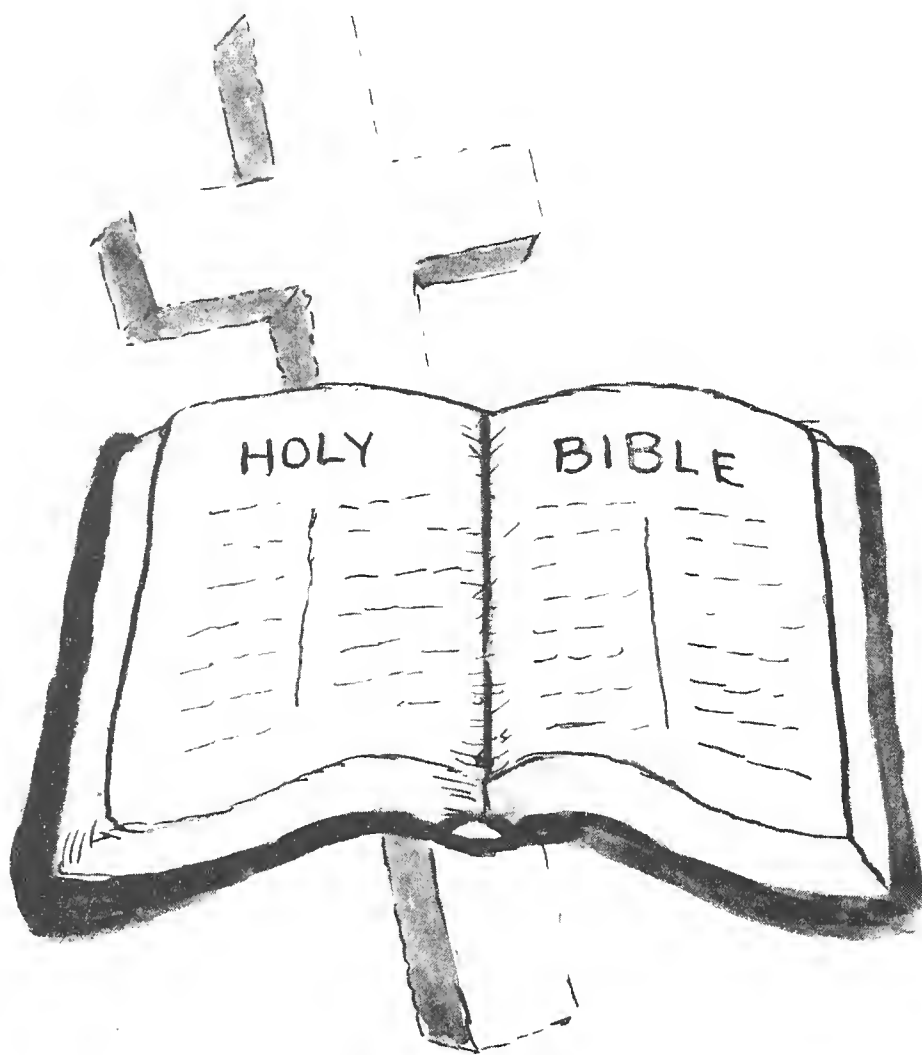

O. W. RING

He is the Campus night watchman. Being always cheerful and ever ready for a friendly chat he has made himself a real friend of Southwestern.

MISSIONS

The Aim of Missions is to make Jesus Christ known to all men as the only Savior from sin. This is a distinctively spiritual aim. Nothing is more apparent in Christ's and His apostles' ministry than this, but it needs strong emphasis today. Our work like theirs is neither commercial, political, not even philanthropic, though our message may exert powerful influence along these lines. Let us hold faithfully to our distinctive aim of preaching Christ.

The Aim of Missions is unique in that it claims that all men are in a condition of desperate need, for which Christ is the only remedy. Any missionary effort that is not deeply rooted in strong conviction on this point can never accomplish that which it should.

The Aim of Missions is a determining aim that should rule our spirits and control our methods, producing in us such ardor and fervor, such absorbing zeal for the greater glory of God, such self-forgetting, self-denying passion for the souls of men so profoundly exemplified in the life of the greatest missionary of the Church, Paul, the Apostle.

AFRICA

...The African...

Robust, proud, defiant, he stands searching the distance, challenging the intruder. The experiences of war, want and wandering have taught him the lessons of caution. They have robbed him of the traditions of the past, the amenities of the present and the heritage of the future. Now he stands watchful, the guardian of his last citadel--his soul.

He knows not nor seeks the mad quest of his contemporary world after money, pleasure, speed and fame; he seeks only peace of mind, shelter over his head, cattle for his farm, corn for his granary, a place in the Long Sleep with his forefathers.

Upon his horizon have appeared men with a message of resuscitation of forlorn hope, of life and love and a Saviour, of conviction and satisfaction for his need. They come, actuated by the fact that behind his challenge they have read an appeal.

We are debtors to the African.

CHINA

...The Voice of Thy Brother's Blood...

Over the dark blue sea, over the trackless flood,
A little band is gone in the service of their God:
The lonely waste of waters they traverse to proclaim,
In the distant land of Sinim, Immanuel's Saving Name.
They have heard from the far-off East the voice of their brother's blood:
A million a month in China are dying without God. . .

No help have they but God: alone to their Father's hand
They look for the supply of their wants in a distant land.
The fulness of the world is Him--'All power' in earth and Heaven:
They are strong tho' weak, and rich tho' poor, in the promise He has given.
'Tis enough! they hear the cry, the voice of their brother's blood:
A million a month in China are dying without God.

HOME MISSIONS

...So Little Time...

Wishful thinkers to the contrary--today is NOT just an iteration of yesterday. We are NOT returning to the adjustments of pre-war days, nor the conditions of any other epoch. HISTORY IS MARCHING ON! The world is being swept inexorably toward a new crisis. Already the sinister rumblings of the approaching apocalyptic storm can be heard.

This unusual era presents unusual opportunities to the churches of America. If opportunities were golden before, they are priceless now. This is a crucial hour in the course of human events. Never has the need been so urgent for the spreading of the gospel in the United States. never the times so significant; never has the church of our fair land been called upon to do so much in so short a time. In this our day of opportunity and responsibility, we must clarify our vision, define our objective, and examine our methods and effort.

How long do we yet have to carry out the great commission? Only God knows the answer. We must awake, Christians of the Homeland, and redeem the time for the days are evil!

EUROPE & JEWS

...As Europe Goes...

Who could deny today the fact that as Europe goes so will the world? Our statesmen of the democracies fully appreciate this fact. That is why under the Marshall Plan ultimately seventeen billion dollars must be spent for the economic restoration of Europe, for if Europe (what is left this side of the iron curtain) is not set on her feet and does not become a self-supporting family of nations, then most assuredly she will fall a victim to the godless menace from the East. And if Europe goes to Communism then the rest of the Old World will go; and if they go that way, then, sooner or later, we here in America will be forced to recall all of our missionaries from abroad.

The great challenge of history is thrust upon God's children today from every part of Europe to go over and lead them back to the Fountainhead of Life, Peace, and Power. But it finds the Church of the Redeemed fast asleep! This is the greatest tragedy of all.

Have we exhausted all of God's resources! If so, then the Master would not have told us, "They need not go hungry. Give ye them to eat." The strategy of the entire missionary world today demands it! We cannot afford to do otherwise.

ALASKA

...Alaska's Challenge...

Millions are living in night's dense darkness
No light to cheer them, no hope nor gladness,
Bowed down and burdened, with none to save,
And death awaits them beyond the grave.

Earnest entreaties to gods that hear not,
To idols bowing, long years have they sought,
But no one answers their anguished plea,
Doomed they pass onward to eternity.

Harvest is passing, night draweth nigh,
Millions are dying, oh, hear their cry!
Then haste my brother, Their souls to save,
Christ to redeem them, His life's blood He gave.

To save, to rescue the lost, the dying,
Your all to Christ give, nothing denying,
His voice is calling, quickly obey,
And do His bidding while it is day.

LATIN-AMERICA

...The Land of the Christless Cross...

Today, in Latin America hundreds of tombs are being prepared to seal forever hopeless souls in the realm of the lost -- 'tis THE LAND OF THE CHRISTLESS CROSS.

Not only the pagan but the most highly civilized may be found kneeling at numerous crosses without the Christ. Countless shrines, shrouded by paganistic mysticism, represent the gross darkness that reigns throughout the land.

Enslaved, benumbed minds grope frantically in search for the real; bodies are sacrificed for the salvation that paganism can never give; priceless souls perish without a glimpse of the Christ of their cross. WE WILL TAKE THEM CHRIST!

ISLANDS

...The Isles Wait...

Did you know that in the Netherland East Indies alone there are nearly four thousand islands which have a population of nearly one hundred million souls?

How many of us realize that if we placed every Assemblies of God missionary on a separate island in the East Indies, that there would still be nearly three thousand islands remaining without one of our missionaries?

Or how many of us realize that if a person were to visit a new island in the Philippines every twenty-four hours, it would take him nearly twenty years to visit each of the 7,083?

But what of the number of other islands that are as yet wholly unknown to the Christian prayer warrior? What of the islands of the West Indies, which lie at our very threshold, to ever remind us of our indifference to our Lord's Commission to the isles of the sea? "Declare His praise in the isles."

INDIA

...India Is Calling...

"A paradise of princes and a purgatory for paupers", India is a land of a few very rich and millions of very poor. One third of the wealth is in the hands of one percent of the people.

Entire tribes still employ stone implements and weapons. Several provinces are governed by feudal systems like that of Europe in the Middle Ages. There are vast multitudes who believe that women have no souls and no hereafter, and advocate the murder of girl babies as fast as they are born, saving just enough to do the cooking and keep the race alive.

The glory of India's new found freedom from British rule has been dimmed by the division of India into two states divided on religious lines. The Union of India for the Hindus and Pakestan for the Moslems. India is a land of 3,000,000 gods, yet a land of gross darkness.

Poverty stricken, illiterate, diseased, bound by satan, THE DARK LAND OF INDIA STANDS CALLING!

KOREA

...Korea Sobs...

There are millions now in darkness,
Marching downward t'ward the grave.
Does their need fail to arouse you?
Jesus died their souls to save.
Does their sobbing fail to touch you,
Can't you hear their mournful wail?
They will perish in the darkness,
If we in our mission fail.

Hear the sobbing of Korea,
Groping now, in heathen light;
Hear them calling, "Come and help us!
We are hungry for the light.
Have you done your part to help them,
Bring them safely to the fold?
Souls of millions in Korea,
Into heathen bondage sold.

Hear the voice of Jesus calling,
As He urges us to rise,
Buckle on the Gospel Armor?
Shout Salvation to the skies;
Place our gifts upon the altar,
Give to Him whom we adore;
Open to Korea's dying,
Christ, the only door.

JAPAN

...Land of the Rising Sun, We Come...

If Christ should say, thy neighbor dies,
And no man cares wouldst thou arise,
And answer breaking worldly ties,
Land of the Rising Sun, we come.

From selfish aims and fancies freed,
With hearts that for thy sorrow bleed,
And God's supply for all thy need,
Land of the Rising Sun, we come.

Sore wounded thou hast been we know,
And robbed and blinded by the foe,
With healing balm for every woe,
Land of the Rising Sun, we come.

The subtle snares of priestcraft sway,
The lies that lead thy feet astray,
The Sword of Truth shall pierce and slay,
Land of the Rising Sun, we come.

The One true light to thee we bring,
The Gospel's saving power we sing,
Ambassadors for Christ our King,
Land of the Rising Sun, we come.

STUDENT MINISTRY

The outstation work has been organized about two and one-half years, during which time there have been from fifteen to forty different groups of students going out on week-ends. Most of this group work was started by meetings having been held on the streets of towns and cities. In some cases empty school buildings or churches were located, which were used until a new church building was erected.

During this time there have been twelve new churches built, including buildings otherwise secured. There have been six churches set in order. At the present time about thirty student pastors are going out from the school each week-end. There were five hundred souls saved during the first semester of this year through the instrumentality of these groups. Also many received the Baptism of the Holy Spirit and many were healed through their ministry. Approximately two hundred and fifty students participate in this outstation work.

This work was done by consecrated faculty and students. It is a home missionary project only attainable by Spirit-filled young people. Many of these students have received training equal to that which the average pioneer worker receives from three to four years of actual ministry without Bible School training. The outstation activity is the laboratory where our students use the things learned in school. It also serves to help the student keep the burden for lost souls.

MUSIC

It was stated recently by an accomplished violinist that 'music is the language of the soul'. To us who are worshippers of God and know of real soul-expression, it more truly could be expressed thus, 'music is a language of the soul'.

But more than this we find that music in its pure sense is an emanation from God. God is a lover of music and has voiced His approval of its usage. Take a walk down through the cottonwood trees or the oaks and see if it be not so. There in God's own creation music is found everywhere. The mockingbird, the sparrow, the dove, the oriole, the robin, the bluebird, the meadowlark, and even the rough voice of the crow with hundreds of others join together to make one great voice of musical harmony. Should you listen closely you would also hear the soft sweet accompaniment of the 'harp of the winds' -- the trees as the gentle breezes move softly over their green leafy strings. More proof is given by those who have delved into the mysteries of the universe. They tell us that the entirety of it is set to music and that the planets and stars give forth a melodious sound as they move in their fixed orbits.

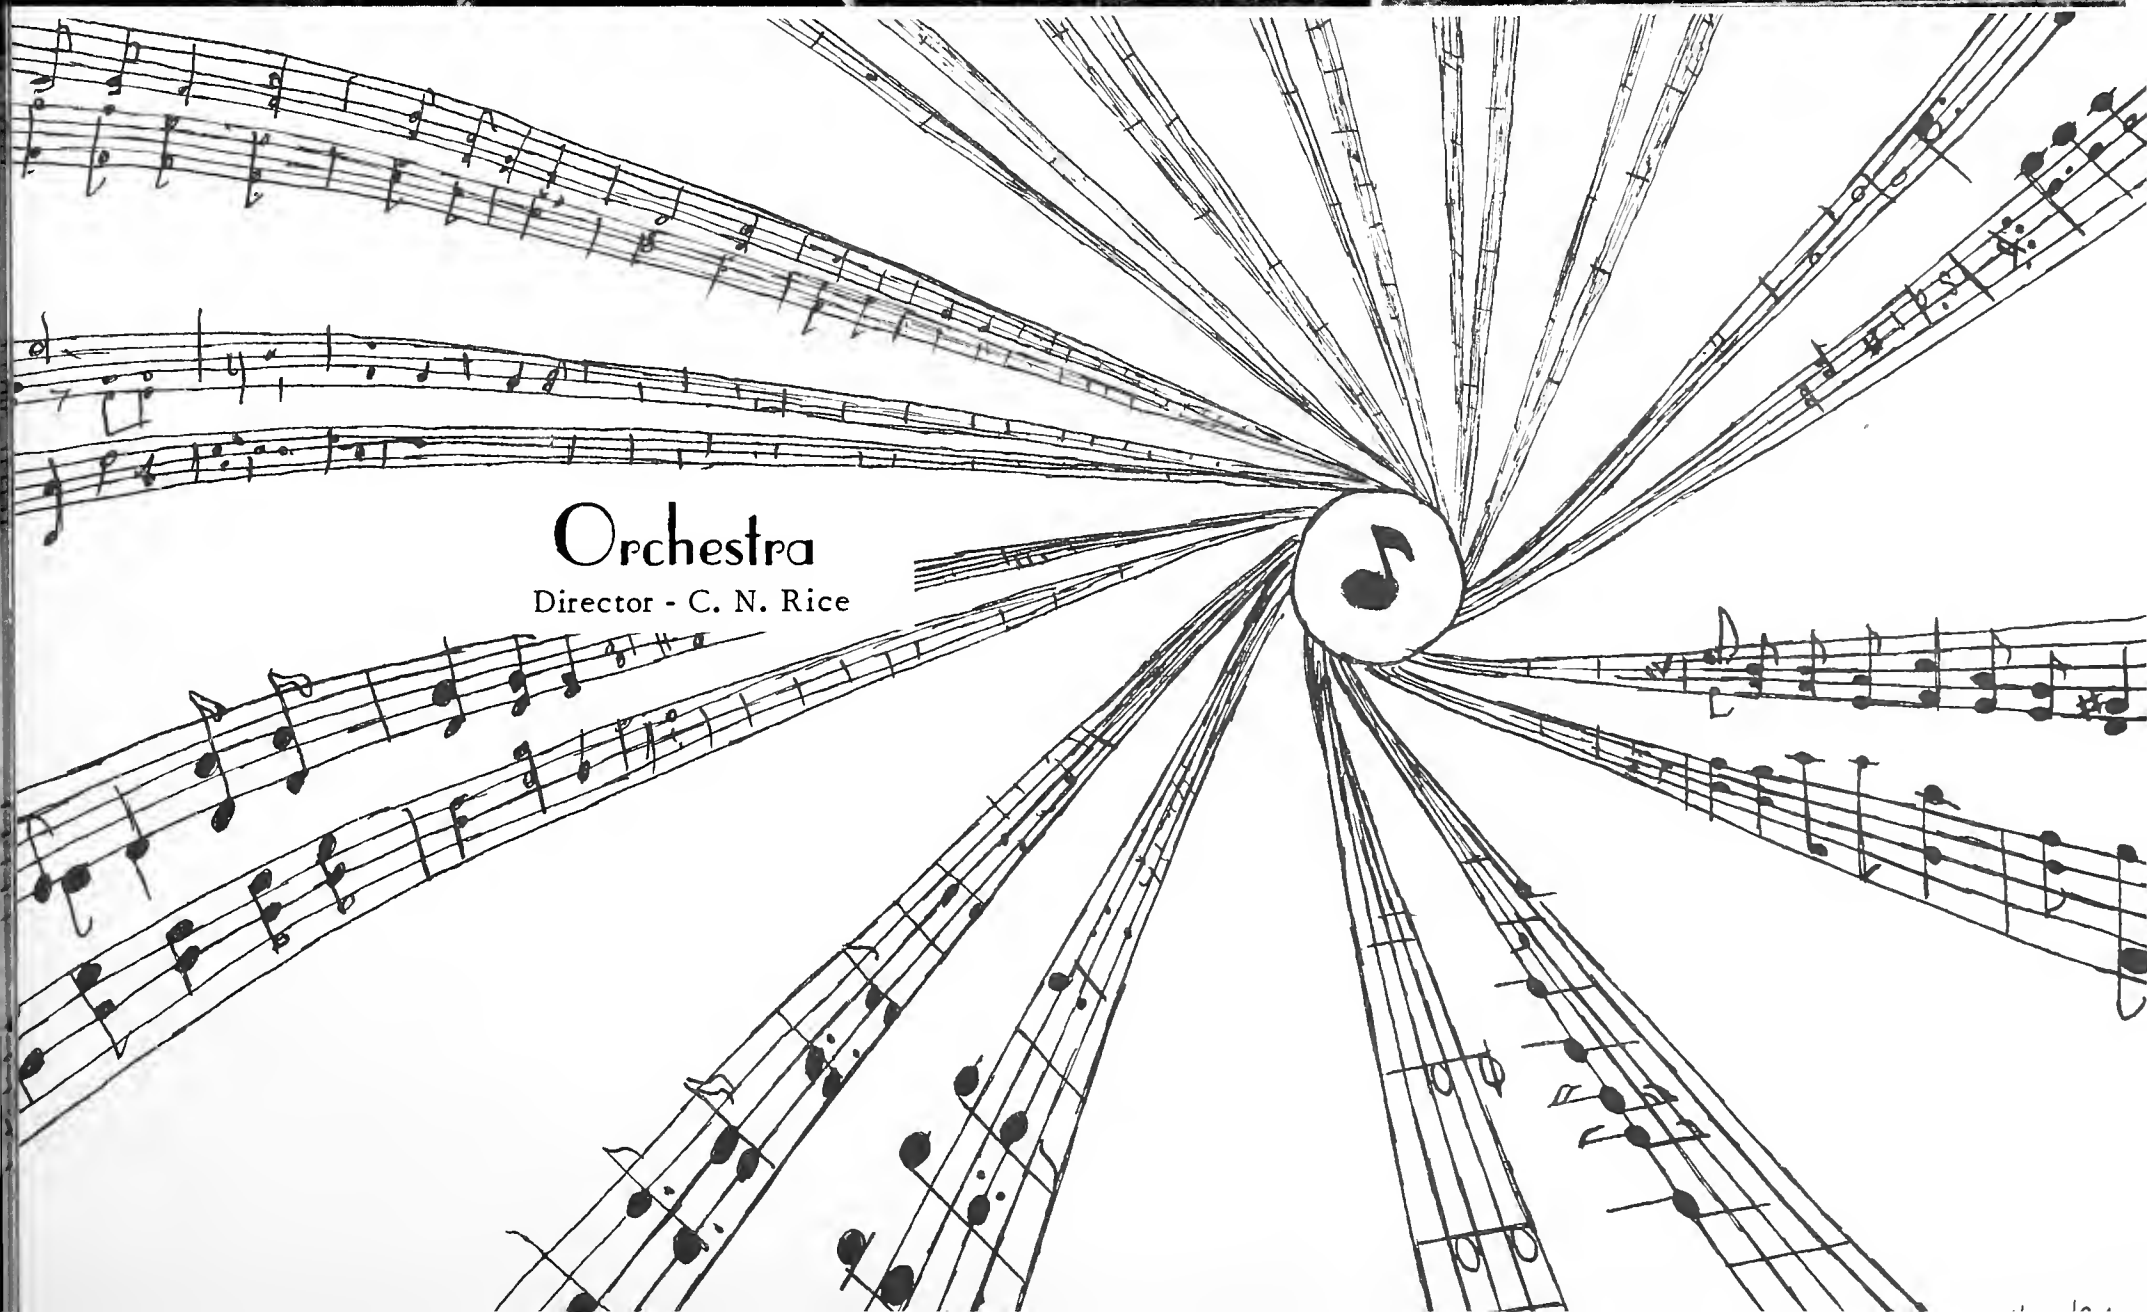

There is ample proof also from the Scripture that God is a lover of music. An occasion is mentioned in I Chronicles XVI concerning David's appointing musicians to minister before the ark of the covenant. Again in I Chronicles XXIII four thousand Levites are spoken of as being set apart for the specific duty of worshipping the Lord with instruments; and then in II Kings III we find Elisha's calling for a musician, and as he played, the hand of the Lord came upon Elisha.

One Wednesday here at Southwestern a young man came and took his place for the regular morning chapel service. This being missionary day, much was said of missions as the service progressed. The need of a world that is lost and dying without Christ was expressed several times in various ways. The young man was impressed as he had been in other such services but not very deeply. As the service proceeded the appointed time came for a young man on the platform to sing. He took his place behind the pulpit and began his song:

"He was not willing that any should perish,
Jesus enthroned in the glory above,
Saw our poor fallen world, pitied our sorrows,
Poured out His life for us, wonderful love!
Perishing, perishing, thriving our pathway
Hearts break with burdens --"

began to float out over the congregation, they reached the ears of the young man. He had heard the words before but they had been meaningless. However, as he was listening the words pierced into his heart and he began to weep for a world that was lost and dying in hopeless despair. That young man was moved that morning as never before. Only God knows the real and full result of that message to his heart. In his own testimony he states that it was the sweet tenor voice of that one behind the pulpit as he sang under the anointing of the Spirit of God that went before the words of that song and prepared a dwelling place for them in his heart.

We do not seek to give music a place it does not deserve, nor to exalt it above its proper sphere, but we do seek to aid music as it strives to find and maintain its rightful place -- that of praising and glorifying God and of lifting the human heart into His very Presence.

Betty, Cozetta, Lucille, and Eleanor busy with class pictures.

Harley works on a drawing.

NOVEMBER. Dusty annual room, small group listening to the courageous man of the year; Gene gives the low-down. We are to make the SOUTHWESTERNER, not one, but hundreds of them, he's the editor -- "What am I?" "What's my part?" "How are we gonna do it?" -- Let's get started. Take it easy, we have seven months. Scene closes with dusty annual room, perplexing questions, and blank expressions.

DECEMBER. Paul becomes enthusiastic; Harry Hodge is still wondering what to do. Chapel program, late distribution accepted, Christmas sales drive, Paul--super salesman.

JANUARY. Eldon and Daniel, the unexcitables, begin to work. The class editors start setting up pictures. Gale and Pat are still able to laugh, Joy looks happy. Scene closes with annual room littered with papers, pictures, typewriters and busy staff members.

FEBRUARY. Harry Bouton is slaving for or with Betty (which is it?). Class editors are all working hard and midnight oil is seen burning in the annual room. Harley drags out his paint brushes and ideas, Joy looks terribly sleepy.

MARCH. Everybody is working hard, more midnight oil, typewriters busy, snapshots galore, everybody sleepy.

APRIL. Spring snapshots, Harry Hodge gets married, more snapshots, Dick and Eleanor do the same.

MAY. Commencement drawing near, everybody has more to do than they are able, last minute pictures coming in, big rush and then it's over.

The SOUTHWESTERNER of '49 is finished. Everyone heaves a sigh. There was a lot of work to it, but we enjoyed every bit of it, and hope that you enjoy your annual just half as much as we enjoyed making it.

Pat, Dick, and Gene discussing new ideas.

Harry and Paul talk over matters.

Obviously it is not possible for every student to attend all the activities of each of the departments and organizations at S. B. I. But nevertheless each member of the Southwestern family is concerned about the others. The SCROLL, our school newspaper, is the instrument through which students, staff members, and friends of the school learn the news pertinent to us.

First-year Bible class's social at Getzendaner Park. . . Brother Ball's message to the Latin American prayer group. . . Students participating in the tennis tournament. . . Venus Assembly's C. A. The Student Council is an organization created to promote better relationship between the faculty and students: by encouraging religious activities; by fostering school pride in campus and buildings; by promoting good school spirit and school loyalty, thus making Southwestern Bible Institute a better school.

This organization is composed of two representatives from each class, the executive officers and a faculty advisor. These united in one accord endeavor to accomplish those things which will prove beneficial to the school.

The purpose of the Student Council is to promote spiritual as well as material growth of the school, and by cooperation all these can be accomplished.

More than one hundred and twenty thousand tracts have gone through the office of the Tract Society this year. This is only the beginning of what can be done in tract distribution.

The Tract Society is organized for the greatest possible tract distribution and each office is vital to the work. Much effort has been put forth in raising funds for the publication of tracts and the Lord has blessed.

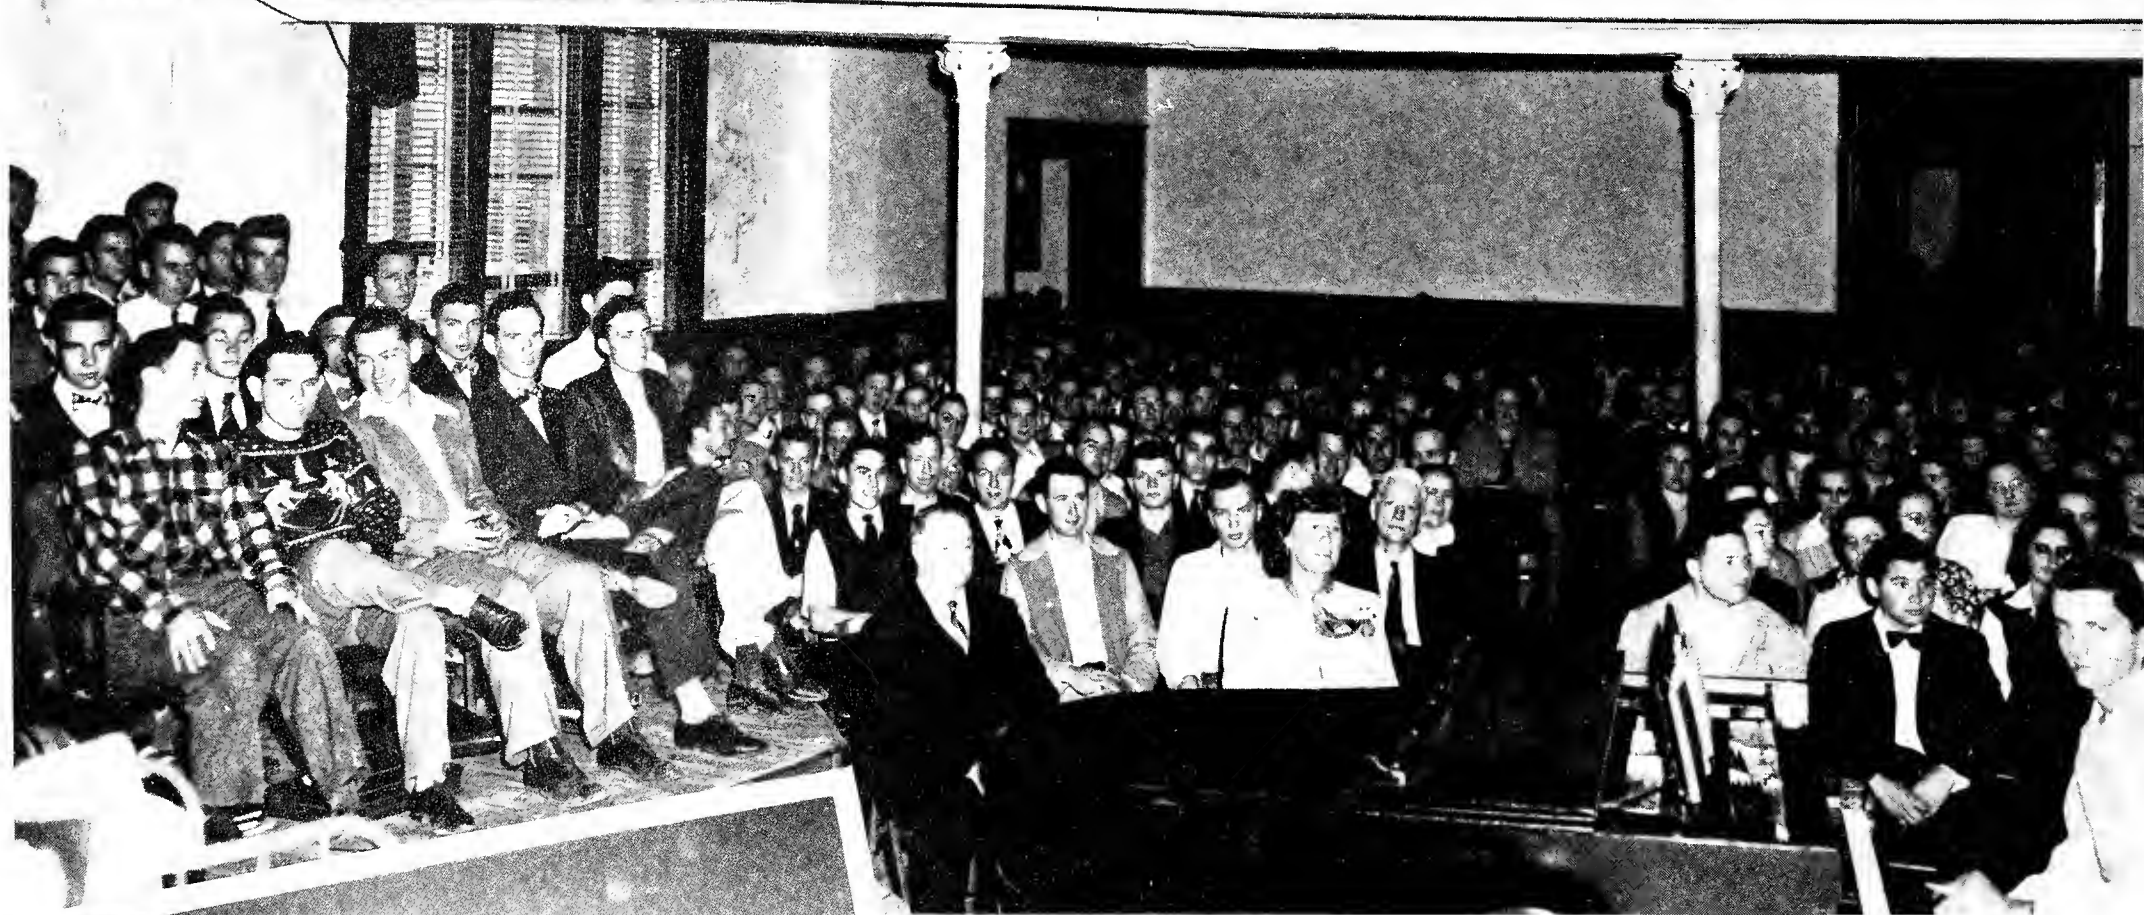

The need for the publication of tracts in Spanish for both home and foreign distribution has been seen and as a result fifty thousand tracts have been printed in Spanish. The vision is expressed in "a message for all".

'Twas just a tract at the end of the road,
 'Twas just a tract that salvation bestowed
 For it told of Christ's death, of His suffering and shame;
 And it told how a sinner might be born again.
 'Twas just a tract at the end of the Road
 But it freedom,-----salvation bestowed.

CHAPEL
SERVICES
THAT INSPIRE
AND UPLIFT - - -

Each morning between seven and eight o'clock the voices of Southwestern students may be heard rising from the chapel to God in prayer. Across the hall, where the faculty is gathered, may be heard the same sort of voices in the same kind of prayer. These blessed voices blend, making the sweetest sound this world has ever heard. Together as one great prayer they drift heavenward and there on the right hand of the Father sits one who hears and intercedes and our prayers are answered. May His name receive the glory for the success of our chapel services.

By eight o'clock both the main floor and balcony of the chapel are filled to capacity, and Southwestern's day begins. Realizing our need for the power and strength of the Holy Spirit, we begin each Monday morning and the new week by singing "Power in the Blood". The building itself seems to sing with joy as the hundreds of voices blend together in this one great refrain.

On Wednesday, Southwestern's missionary day, the services are begun by singing "Let the Lower Lights be Burning". It is on this day, as we listen to the presentation of the need of the foreign lands, that our hearts, instead of singing seem to weep under a burden and a love for the lost. It is here in these blessed chapel services that we have heard the voice of the Lord of harvest and it is here that we have answered, "Here am I, Lord, send me".

Visiting minister, Oral Roberts, speaks.

"And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed."

MARK 1:35

GIRLS' RECREATION

Under the capable guidance of Miss Bailey the girls have enjoyed many hours of physical activity that have helped to relieve the tension of the duties of the day. Tennis, volleyball, basketball, softball, table tennis, croquet and other sports have offered a wide variety of activities from which to choose.

Physical recreation has its place in the Christian life and it provides a grand release for that energy which is typical of youth. This year has seen more girls take part in the activities than ever before and one reason is that Miss Bailey has made the recreational program so interesting.

VOLLEY BALL

Gussie serves one.

The volleyball courts have been the scenes of many hard fought games and it has been one of the most outstanding sports of the year. The only hindrance to volleyball has been weather conditions that stopped outside games but still games were played in the gym.

Each night after supper the volleyball games were a source of pleasure and attraction. Teams of both boys and girls played against each other and many times the score was close. As students go this summer to their respective place many are going to miss those exciting volleyball games.

Joy jumps for a high one and gets it.

Ray goes up to drive one back over the net.

Jack gets both feet off the ground to make a return that results in another point.

TENNIS

This has been a great year for those who enjoyed the thrill of tennis. Tennis classes were conducted by Connie Bailey, Klaude Kendrick, Carl Barnes, Paul Savell, and Wayne Rowland and all phases of the game were taught. Many have taken an active interest in this sport because of the faithful and tireless labor of these instructors.

Tournaments were held and the top-flight players won out in well-played games. The tennis courts have been the scenes of constant activity. It can truthfully be said that this has been the greatest year yet for tennis but the future looks good.

Earl comes in to take a fast one over the net.

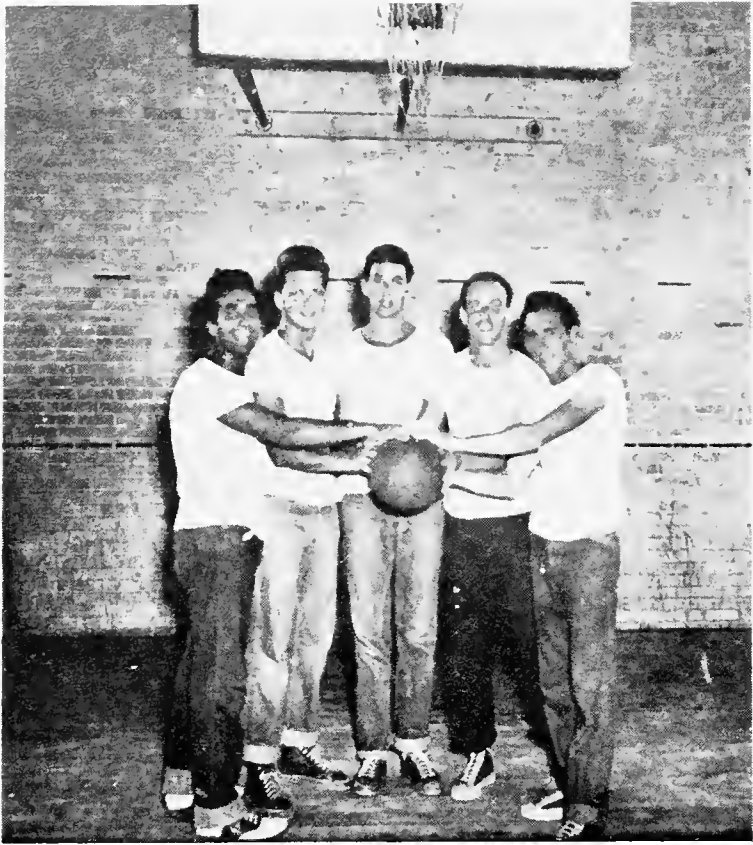

Wendell makes a good return from the back of the court.

Bobby aces a serve.

Up in the air to take a high one.

BASKETBALL

The sound of the referee's whistle has launched game after game of basketball that resulted in fast playing and good teamwork. The Intramural Tournament produced co-champions -- Second Year College and First Year College -- but only after hard-fought contests.

Basketball is one of the fastest sports played and furnishes plenty of action, teamwork, fast breaks, set shots, crisp shots, bullet passes, fast dribbling and close guarding. Basketball can always be counted on as a sport to give a good showing in any year.

Our Boys' Recreation Director, Dwight Palser, has helped to make this a good year for basketball, as well as other sports.

FOOTBALL

Shivering spectators braved the cold and wind to witness the rugged battles that took place on the football field. As teams pitted their skill against each other, thrills were furnished for both players and spectators. From the kick-off to the final whistle each game was packed with plenty of excitement and hard playing.

We can still visualize those plays that made the game good: Dub rushing center. . . Keith sweeping out on an end run. . . Danny leaping up to snag a pass in the end zone. . . the charging lines. . . intercepted passes. . . all of these and many others were scenes of common occurrence on the field.

Signals 2 - 4 - 6 - 3-----

1. Keith blocks as Dub searches field for a receiver.

2. Pass coming down into the hands of the receiver but watch out for the opposition!!

3. Harry waiting for charging runner but Dwight also has plans.

4. Plenty of time to throw a long one that could mean the game.

5. Dwight trapped!

6. The play gets rough as there is a pile-up.

SOFTBALL

"In Spring a young man's fancy turns to SOFTBALL", can hold true among the athletic-minded fellows. The first signs of spring brought players out on the diamond to take the kinks out of their playing. The crack of the bat and the cry of the spectators are heard as they drift in from the field.

It will be a long time before the fans forget the wide arc of Lee Roy's arm as he loosed that fast ball that banged into the catcher's mitt. Softball is one of the most popular sports of Southwestern and is the source of thrills and heart-breaks as sometimes the favorite team loses.

Senior Day

On the morning of May 11 the rising sun was greeted by sleepy and perplexed Seniors who were just beginning to realize that this was the day they had long anticipated. While the rest of the world lay wrapped in slumber, the honorable Seniors departed for parts unknown. The first stop was Sycamore Park in Fort Worth where the tantalizing aroma of bacon and eggs (mixed with the not-so-savory odor of Ben's burnt toast) permeated the atmosphere. Some of the fellows braved the dew of the early morning and amid the cheers of the ladies participated in a ball game that furnished thrills, spills, and later sore muscles.

Lunch was served on the shore of beautiful Eagle Mountain Lake to wet, sunburned, bedraggled Seniors. K. K. and his fellow-fishermen proudly displayed the fruits of their toils--sixteen fish.

As the sun sank beyond the western horizon, weary Seniors sank beneath the load of hot dogs and the fun of a full day. Christian fellowship is grand and the days as classmates had been a blessing but hearts were sobered by the thought that soon they would be separated, each to his respective place. Songs of praise, worship, and consecration flowed from the hearts of all as they gathered for devotions and hearts were touched by the Spirit of God.

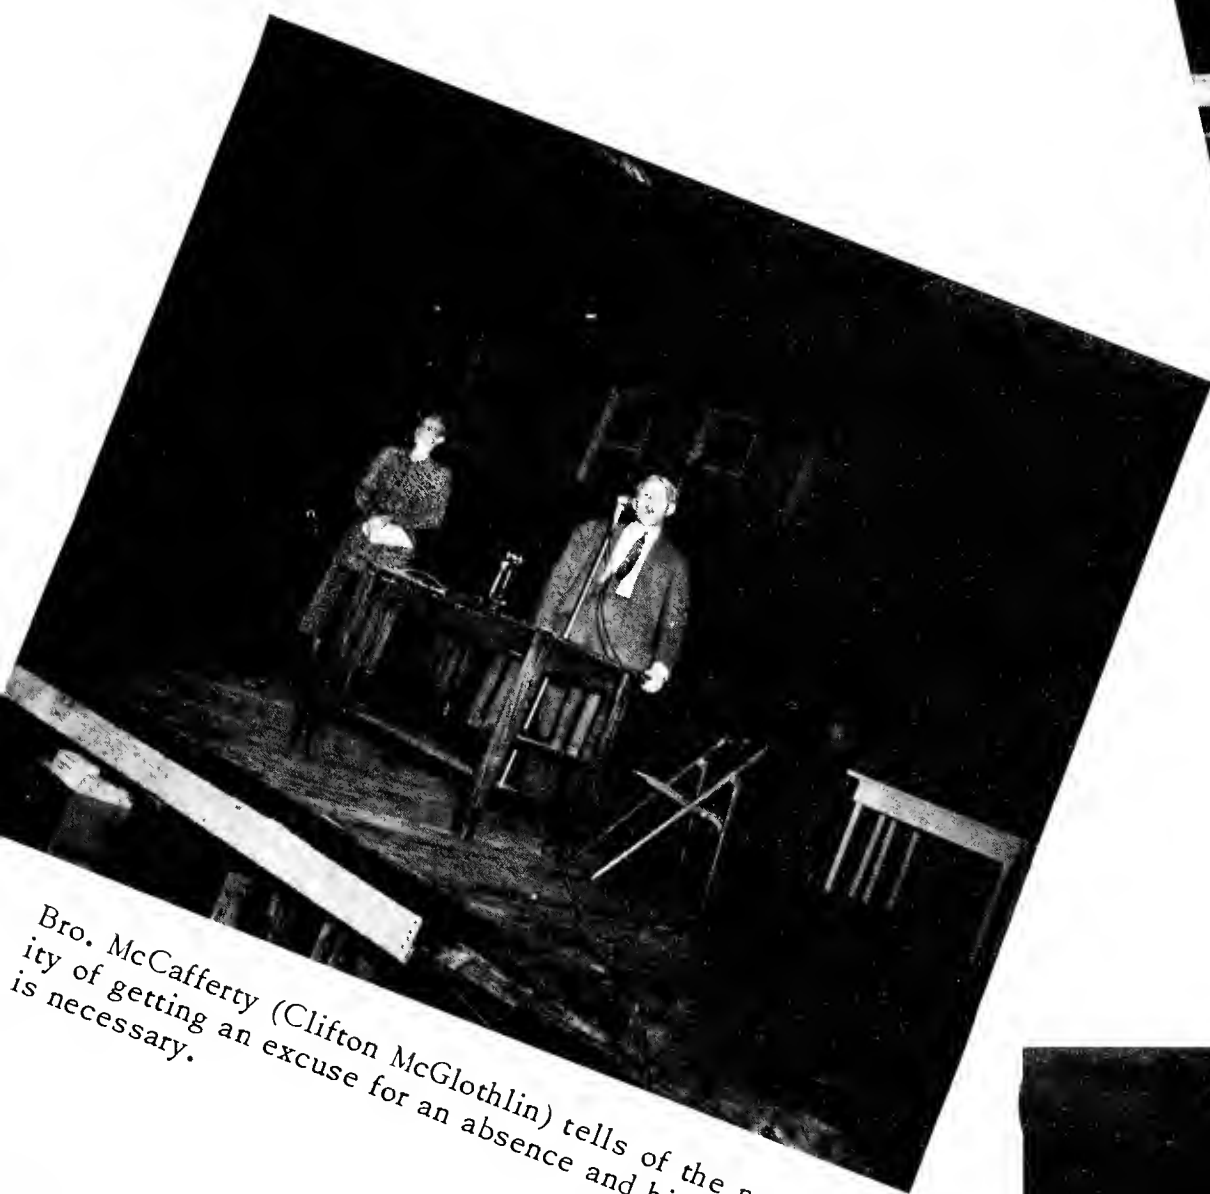

The group dispersed and soon the familiar lights of Southwestern loomed into view and tired but happy Seniors trudged off to rest their weary bodies.

CLASS NIGHT

Sis. Livernash (Zelma Riecks) calls the authorities to report a busted pipe that is allowing water to drip into the mash potatoes and also the ceiling is falling into the meat balls.

Bro. McCafferty (Clifton McGlothlin) tells of the necessity of getting an excuse for an absence and his signature is necessary.

As I sit and look out over the dear old Campus of Southwestern I see the trees that are green with their multitude of leaves. The grass is green too but will be greener yet. It has just been mowed and looks nice and clean -- all this reminds me that the month is May, the last month of school and, yes, even the last week, too. Three years I have observed the same scenery at the same time of year and now the fourth and last.

Between two of the large green treetops I see one roof of the boys' dorm, home for three years. Tears almost come, my heart feels very strange, my last year at Southwestern.

I remember my first year, especially my roommates, two of the best buddies I'll ever have. Now come the parting of the ways; I never thought it would be like this.

Looking slightly to the right, the looming structure of the Administration Building is in my view. Its very appearance seems to convey a message, a message of memories. I remember especially Brother Zook's class of Pastoral Theology. The picture of that dear old man with tears rolling silently down his cheeks as he spoke of the richness of God lives in my heart as it did then. Oh, yes, I remember one day I arranged an appointment with Brother Collins. I stood before his office door, nervous, a bit shaky. I was invited in, I saw his smile, heard his tender voice, my fears left and as I stepped out I noticed my burden was gone, too. Something else, one night there was a little trouble; all the boys were summoned to the chapel. Brother Collins, Brother Moore, Brother Zook and Brother McCafferty were there. There seemed to be a bit of confusion and unrest, then Brother McCafferty, dear Brother McCafferty, stepped up in front, tears streaming down his cheeks, and requested that we sing "O to be like thee, blessed Redeemer". Soon tears were in the eyes of everyone and the trouble was over.

I look still farther to the right and see the main entrance. I remember when I came, now I'm leaving, saying good-bye. And the library and the gym and oh, yes, the girls' dorm, I can't quite see them -- oh yes, yes I can in my heart. They're stamped there, the perfect image of each.

Guess I'd better stop, too many memories. Friday night will soon be here -- see my buddies then, maybe for the last time here. Going to be hard to say good-bye, I'll have to smile. But no, on second thought it won't be so hard. This is not a school like other schools, quite different, those who come here have a hope brighter than the blessed 'now'. I know those two. They've proven themselves and they with me have established that hope firm in their hearts -- the hope of a glorious reuniting when all the children of God shall come from the North, South, East, and West and sit down with the blest of all ages in God's own banquet hall. Fellowship sweeter than ever, friendship stronger than ever, happiness no end, joy untold, and no tears, no sighings, and no saying goodbye, wonderful, glorious day!

Strange, then no more ache and the tears are gone. Why my heart is as though it would burst with joy. We are not saying 'goodbye' at all, just 'so-long' for a little while. Now I can smile, now I can laugh and rejoice -- just a little while -- Oh, blessed, glorious, hope!
